LLOW FEVER NOW ON THE WANE

ernor Blanchard Sends His Third Installment.

IEF FOR NATCHEZ, MISS.

n Rouge Announces That It Is ee of the Pest—Conditions Are nsidered Brightest—Virginia Ports ising Quarantines.

w Orleans, Oct. 13.—Still colder ther, the mercury going to 58 at Orleans and under 40 in many rts of the state, with frost in middle section of the state, today ened the probability of the early ction of yellow fever throughout iana and Mississippi, two states h have been infected since August In both states conditions are idered to be of the brightest and fear practically passed and peo- generally utterly tired of the re- ions put upon travel it is antici- d that the era of quarantine will be over. Except from Cheniere nads, on the gulf coast in Jeffer- parish, where because there has no actual fight against it the fe- continues to spread all reports to- from the state are of a most hope- character. There has not been a at Tallulah for three days and ees are returning to the town and aring for the opening of business. 15 cases remain at the Kenner ital, which serves a wide territory. n Rouge announces that it is free ver. Only sporadic cases are left rre Bonne parish, which declares quarantine will be raised on Oct. Patterson's record of only two and no deaths is the best for . In New Orleans the report for receding 24 hours was considered e marine hospital authorities the since July. There was but a sin- new focus developed, while the cases were fewer than for any in two months and a half and the ths were low. The number under tment, 179, was the lowest to date. complete collapse of the fever is far distant.

Governor Blanchard yesterday sent third installment of $20,000 of the te's appropriation to Chairman Jan. rs of the citizens' committee. It is obable this will be the last. About 0,000 has been used in relieving the ation in the country parishes. The maining $20,000, which the governor as authorized to use, may not have be borrowed.

Announcement from Washington at because of the fear of trouble er quarantine the armored cruiser est Virginia will not come to New leans, but that the president will be ken to the vessel in the gulf of a ghthouse tender, created some sur- se here. The fact that the Virginia rts are raising their quarantine and o longer requiring health certificates removes any difficulty the cruiser ight have in returning north from New Orleans.

Dr. John Callan and Dr. Bevery Warner are making a complete round of all the schools in the city and are giving brief lectures to thousands of interested school children. It was announced today that the conditions down town are improving so rapidly that McDonough High school No. 2 will be opened on Monday.

That no permanent adverse effects of the fever are expected is evident from the preparations that are being made for activity in all lines. A new bank, the Colonial, was organized yesterday. Ground was broken for an extensive building in Camp street for the W. C. Fairbanks Scales company. Large forces have been put to work on the new 12-story Grunewald hotel annex. Ground is to be broken next month for the big Touchstone hotel. Plans are preparing for several other important buildings, and the season promises to be an exceptionally busy one in the line of new construction.

Safety Aid For Sufferers.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13.—In response to a telegram from President Miller of the Natchez, Miss., relief committee, the Louisville board of trade today began a canvass of the business district of this city for funds to aid the yellow fever sufferers in Natchez. President Miller's telegram read:

"The poor people of Natchez who could not get away are without work and in dire distress. We have appealed for assistance. Can your exchange help us?"

Louisville Raises Quarantine.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13.—The state board of health today removed all restrictions against travelers coming from yellow fever infected points. No more certificates of health will be required and the inspection of passenger trains has been abandoned.

JACK FROST'S COMING.

Reports From All Sections of the South Reports His Arrival.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The weather bureau this morning says the frost line extends this morning into the northern portions of the gulf states, while heavy and some killing frosts occurred in the Ohio valley and in the Mississippi valley as far north as Memphis.

Birmingham Visited by Frost.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 13.—There was a heavy frost here and all over north Alabama last night. Cool weather continues today and it is expected that quarantines in this section will be raised at once. The statement was made by state health officers yesterday that if frost fell last night the quarantines would be promptly lifted.

Frost at Waco, Texas.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 13.—A light frost, the first of the season, appeared here this morning. In northern Texas the precipitation was heavier. What cotton that yet remains in the fields will probably be damaged.

Frost Visible at Jackson, Miss.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 13.—A good sized frost was visible in Jackson and surrounding county this morning. This is the earliest date on which frost has appeared in several years, and it means an early lifting of the quarantines.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS CELEBRATE.

Dinner Was Given at Leading Hotel. Prominent Men Were Present.

Atlanta, Oct. 13.—The annual Discovery day dinner of the local Knights of Columbus took place Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Aragon hotel. A splendid program of toasts was rendered and a delightful menu served.

Prominent Knights of Columbus from other states were present as the guests of Atlanta Council No. 660 and responded to toasts.

The Knights of Columbus is a patriotic order of American Catholic men and, as the name indicates, endeavors to do especial honor to the discoverer of the new world, where freedom of speech and thought and action are fostered and where personal liberty exists in its truest and highest sense.

In every state of the Union and in nearly every city of the United States the Knights of Columbus celebrated the discovery of America. The day was celebrated with a ball in Greater New York. In other cities there were various forms of celebrations. Some had parades, others public gatherings where speeches were made. The Atlanta council has elected to celebrate with a dinner and each year the members of the local council will assemble at one of the hotels.

Convicted of Keeping Gambling House.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 13.—Charles H. Levan was tried and convicted on a charge of keeping a gambling house and sentenced by Judge Cann, in the superior court, to pay a fine of $100 and costs and serve three months in jail. After sentence had been pronounced, an effort was made to have the court commute the sentence, on proof of general good character. This was unsuccessful. The jail sentence proved particularly objectionable to the defendant. Some time ago Levan had failed to show up when called for trial, having gone to Saratoga instead.

HE THREW HIMSELF FROM OPEN WINDOW

Was a Young Man Who Had Advanced Rapidly.

SECRETARY COUNTY COMMITTEE

Had Received a Letter and After Reading It Went to Bath Room and Leaped to His Death—Friend of Former Governor Black.

New York, Oct. 13.—Rather than face trial on the indictments charging him with fraudulently taking money from the Weisel estate, Armitage Mathews, lawyer and secretary of the county Republican committee, committed suicide today by jumping from a window in his apartments to a stone paved courtyard. He struck on his head, fracturing the skull and died in a short time. Mathews, who was a young man, had advanced rapidly, both in the practice of his profession and in politics. He was a friend of former Governor Black and of Abraham Gruber, and they were loyal to him in his trouble, acting as legal advisors and doing all they could to aid him to obtain the change of venue from this county, for which he applied. The change of venue was denied yesterday and trial of the case was set for today before Justice Davy in the criminal branch of the supreme court. Early this morning Mathews received a special delivery letter. After reading it his housekeeper heard him go to a bath room and open a window. A few seconds later he jumped to his death. Several tenants in a house in the rear of the Mathews apartment saw him jump. A doctor was hurriedly summoned, but could do nothing and Mathews died in a few minutes.

Mathews was indicted last May on charges of conspiracy and grand larceny, growing out of the looting of the Weissel estate, of which David Rothschilds, in the Federal building, was administrator. Rothschilds, John W. Wooten and Lawyer Samuel Robinson were all indicted with Mathews on the same charges. Rothschilds is serving a long term in state prison for wrecking the Federal bank and Wooten was convicted in June and sentenced to nine years and five months in Sing-Sing.

Wooten was kept in the Tombs as a possible important witness against Mathews. Ferguson was also expected to be a witness for the prosecution of Mathews.

Mathews was the local representative of the Bankers' Security company of Cleveland, which was on Rothschilds' books for $40,000 as administrators for the Weissel estate. It was agreed by the four accused men, according to the indictment, that Rothschilds was to have sole possession of the estate and that whatever money be borrowed on it was to be shared by his associates.

Mathews at one time was assistant district attorney. He served three terms as a member of the board of aldermen. Two years ago he was made secretary of the county Republican committee. After Rothschilds was convicted and sent to Sing-Sing prison he drew up on bits of paper a series of statements in which he accused Mathews of having a share in the looting of the Weissel estate. Eventually the statements reached District Attorney Jerome and Rothschilds was brought to New York to testify against Mathews.

Killed by Tybee Train.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 13.—Henry Deming, a Swede about 40 years of age, was run over and killed by a Tybee railroad train. It is thought that Deming was either demented or that he got on the track with suicidal intent. He came here recently from New York.

Contractor Fatally Stabbed.

Gadsden, Ala., Oct. 13.—B. F. Garrett, a well-known contractor, was seriously and probably fatally stabbed by O. M. Bomar, who made his escape. Family trouble alleged as the cause.

COLUMBUS PRINTERS STRIKE.

Every Man on Enquirer-Sun Walks Out of Office.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 13.—Every printer and linotype operator in the employ of The Enquirer-Sun company has walked out because the company would not sign an agreement with the local Typographical union, taking effect Jan. 1, 1906, and lasting one year, making eight hours a day's work and paying 50 per cent additional for overtime. Both newspapers have declared open shops. The management of the two papers are of the opinion that no issue of either paper will be missed. At The Enquirer-Sun office the pressman, who is a member of the Typographical union, walked out with the printers. The linotype operators in both offices have been working only eight hours, and would not have been affected by the new scale proposed.

All the job printers in the city went on a strike last Saturday when the proprietors of the several job printing establishments refused to enter into an 8-hour agreement, taking effect Jan. 1 next.

VETERAN'S DEATH JAIL MEN.

Recorder Investigates Killing of Reynolds—Witness Held For Perjury.

Atlanta, Oct. 13.—J. J. Kearney, charged with causing the death of the confederate veteran, J. W. Reynolds, has been held in a $1,000 bond by Judge Broyles for involuntary manslaughter. At the same time the only witness introduced for the defense, W. B. Ridgeway, a pressman, has been held also in a $500 bond for perjury, the recorder believing that Ridgeway had deliberately sworn to a falsehood in testifying in Kearney's behalf.

The investigation had been interesting throughout.

On last Saturday night Reynolds was knocked down in front of the Big Bonanza saloon and on Monday night he died at the Grady hospital from his injuries.

Kearney's bond was fixed at $1,000 on the charge of involuntary manslaughter. Both he and Ridgeway were committed to the Tower in default of bail.

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT FLOYD FAIR.

Party Was Met by Committee of Citizens—Banquetted by Elks.

Rome, Ga., Oct. 13.—This was a great day at the Floyd county fair and large crowds visited it. It was Governor's day and Governor Terrell, Hon. Clark Howell and Hon. J. Temple Graves were met at the depot by a delegation of citizens and taken in carriages to the industrial school, where each of the distinguished visitors made addresses.

From the school the party drove to the Cherokee hotel, where they took lunch. A troop of the Twelfth United States cavalry, with its band, escorted the governor and party from the Cherokee hotel to Mobley park, where the fair is being held. The party inspected the exhibits in the several departments and afterwards witnessed the drill of the Twelfth cavalry.

In the evening the Elks tendered a banquet to the governor and party, which was greatly enjoyed by all. Happy addresses were made and a most enjoyable evening spent.

Mine Workers Are Enjoined.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 13.—Judge C. D. Clarke of the United States district court, has been granted a permanent injunction against the United Mine Workers of America and individual members of the order. The injunction was granted early in September to the Tennessee Consolidated Coal company, following the murder of miners at Tracy City. A restraining order was issued at that time pending argument in the case.

Recommended to Mercy of Court.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 13.—Justice of the Peace Charles V. Hohenstein has been convicted by a jury in the superior court on the charge of malpractice in office. He was recommended to the mercy of the court, which will mean his dismissal from office and the imposition of a fine. The recommendation will probably prevent his being given a jail sentence.

BLIND WOMAM IS BURNED TO DEATH

Deaf Mother Was in an Adjoining Room Sewing.

THE VICTIM WAS A WIDOW

Had Been Sightless From Childhood. When She Placed Kettle on Gas Stove Sleeve of Her Waist Was Ignited.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A blind woman was burned to death in her kitchen last night while her deaf old mother sat placidly rocking and mending in an adjoining room, hearing nothing of the dying daughter's cries of agony. The blind victim was Mrs. Frances Harvey, a widow, 41 years old. The mother is Mrs. W. Vierer, 81 years old. With them lived Mrs. Harvey's 18-year-old daughter, Emma, who works in a down town store and has supported the family of three. The daughter reached home just as Mrs. Harvey was dying.

Mrs. Harvey had been blind from childhood. But she knew the house by heart and had been accustomed to doing the cooking. Her daughter placed things where she could find them and was at hand every morning and night to attend to any duties that had escaped her mother.

The blind woman had placed the kettle on the gas stove last night when the sleeve of her dress, coming in contact with the burning gas, became ignited. She fought desperately.

Mrs. Vierer in her chair sewed and rocked and hummed a tune faintly. The cries of her daughter were without avail.

Soon Mrs. Harvey fell to the floor. There she lay when the daughter returned from her day's work.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY MADE.

Autopsy Held Revealed Pancreas Had Withered Away.

New York, Oct. 13.—What is regarded as a wonderful discovery by the medical profession was made yesterday at the autopsy performance on the body of George William Cait, whose body, in accordance with his will, was taken to the dissecting room of the Cornell and Bellevue hospital Medical schools to be dissected for the benefit of medical and surgical research.

The pancreas, which performed the same functions as the gall, supplying the smaller intestines with gastric juices to aid digestion, was found to be decayed, a condition which had probably prevailed for months. It was found to have withered away to almost nothing and the surgeons who were present at the autopsy declare there is no other case known of a man living with a withered pancreas.

The coffin in which the body was borne to the Medical college was destroyed yesterday and the flowers which accompanied it were distributed among the hospital patients. The body will in a few days be cremated.

Japs Want Control of Korea.

Seoul, Oct. 13.—Japanese Minister Hayashi started for Tokio for the purpose of consulting the government and elder statesmen. Minister Hayashi recently recommended the declaration of a Japanese protectorate over Korea as the only means of making effectual Japanese projects in Korea. It is probable that the coming conference will definitely decide the political status of Korea. The Japanese are anxious to obtain a hold on affairs before the return of representatives of Russia and the impending conference, together with the absence of British and Italian ministers on a vacation encourage the local Japanese to believe that eventually all the foreign legations will be handled altogether in Tokio. The emperor and court officials are much worried over the present turn of affairs, more especially as they cling to their national representation abroad and to the residence of foreign ministers at Seoul as the last vestige of their vanishing independence.

T. G. RAMSEY DEAD; AN OCTOGENARIAN

One of the Old Residents Joins the Great Majority.

WELL KNOWN IN TWO STATES

Resided at Arredondo, on His Farm Purchased From the Government—A Native of Georgia, Where He Passed Many Years.

The Hon. Thomas Green Ramsey, one of Alachua county's oldest citizens, breathed his last at his home in Arredondo, at 1 p. m., Friday, October 13th, 1905, aged 88 years.

By the death of Mr. Ramsey there passes from the scenes of this life one of the prominent figures of the past century, who was known for his strength of character. He was born in Pulaski county, Ga. In his infancy his parents removed to Stewart county, where they resided until 1845, when his father came to Florida, the family following one year later.

The deceased, however, was educated at one of the leading colleges of Georgia, and came to Alachua county with his parents, who settled at the west end of Payne's Prairie, and in 1849, when the Arredondo grant was sold by the government, bought a section on which he resided at the time of his death.

Mr. Ramsey went to Georgia to reside after he had lived in Arredondo for a time, where he was married to a Miss Sykes, remaining there until about 15 years ago, when he returned to his old home in this county where he resided until his death, his wife having died three months ago.

Two sons, Perry G. and F. Marion, and one daughter, Miss Sarah Ramsey, who has lived at home as housekeeper, survive him.

During his life he held many important offices in Georgia as well as in this State, being a man of excellent ability, strictly honest in every transaction and of noble impulses, respected and honored by all who knew him. He followed the occupation of farming and was successful in that line, having a large circle of friends among all classes, who considered him a thorough gentleman. He was a member of the Baptist church, and one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Masons in the county, having joined the Micanopy lodge as a charter member.

Thus passes away the last member of the numerous family of Moses Ramsey, one of the noblest works of the Creator, and a man who was a neighbor and friend of the old school citizenry of Dr. Payne, George R. Fairbanks and Judge Forward, the men selected to dispose of the old Arredondo land grant.

We are unable to state what arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. ## DECAPITATED HEAD FOUND

Wrapped in a Newspaper Lead to Discovery of a Murder.

New York, Oct. 13.—The finding of a man's head in front of 615 East Eighteenth street today led to the discovery of a murder committed probably last night at One Hundred and Forty-sixth avenue. The head was wrapped in a white and blue shirt and the Sunday supplement of an American newspaper.

Soon after the head was found a man told the police he believed a murder had been committed at the Third avenue address last night and that the body had been cut up. Search of the house resulted in the discovery of an arm and legs of a man in a suit case, and the trunk of the body was found in a closet.

MICANOPY NEWS.

High School Opening—Business and Personal Items.

Micanopy, Oct. 12.—The Micanopy high school opened the 2nd of this month with an enrollment of 81. The principal, Miss Annie Collins of Georgia, with Miss Clara Smith of North Carolina and Miss Sophie Merry of this place as assistants, are hard at work getting the children properly classified. We think they will please all and advance the pupils rapidly, as they are getting down to hard work right in the beginning. There have been several scholars enrolled since the opening day. With good teachers, and the patrons taking more interest than usual, the school will be a success.

Rev. T. J. Norsworthy has returned to Live Oak, where he is holding a protracted meeting. He was called home to see the little Miss Norsworthy, that had arrived since he left for Live Oak a week previous.

F. S. Osteen has sold his turpentine interests here to P. M. Colson and S. G. Gay of Gainesville, for $25,000. We are glad to have these gentlemen come into our midst.

Mrs. J. P. Hester went to Rochelle Tuesday. She has a large music class at that place.

J. J. Barr and wife, and Mrs. J. D. Watkins and children have returned from Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina. They have been absent over two months. They report a pleasant and beneficial trip.

S. H. Benjamin went to Ocala Tuesday on business.

Mrs. J. A. Edwards is visiting relatives in Gainesville this week.

The little baby boy of Dr. and Mrs. Sutherland of High Springs was buried here yesterday in the Powell lot at the Micanopy cemetery.

Miss Viola Carlton is teaching school at Central, in Marion county.

Rev. E. A. Gray preached two interesting sermons at the Methodist church Sunday.

F. S. Osteen went to Jacksonville Tuesday.

A. U. Hilleary is fixing to put up a moss mill in town. He is in the market for all the moss that is for sale.

John Harrison, formerly chief clerk to the Gainesville agent of the G. & G. Railway, is now employed by E. C. Chitty.

A. H. Emerson carried his son, Lucius, to Atlanta Tuesday, to have Dr. Calhoun operate on his eyes. Chas. Smith of Waccahoota went with them to have the Doctor operate on his eyes also. Their friends hope the operations will be entirely successful.

Rev. E. A. Gray went to Gainesville Tuesday to attend to some business.

J. E. Thrasher is still getting in goods. He has one of the largest stocks of goods ever brought to this place.

We are glad to see Dr. H. C. Crawford and wife back home again, after spending the summer in their old home in Maine.

Mrs. M. B. Saunders of Gainesville was in town yesterday to attend the burial of Dr. Sutherland's little boy.

Seventh Victim of Feud.

Mobile, Ala. Oct. 13.—William Young was killed from ambush on Wednesday while returning to his home at Wheelerville, 13 miles west of Mobile, as a result of a feud which continued there for the past 35 years, and of which he is the seventh victim.

Thirty-three Firemen Arrested.

Liverpool, Oct. 13.—Thirty-three firemen of the White Star line steamer Oceanic, who were arrested here on the charge of conspiring to disobey the captain's orders during the last voyage from New York, were this afternoon fined 40 shillings each.

REMARKABLE OPERATION.

New Set of Eyelids Are Made From Skin of Man's Arm.

Columbus, O., Oct. 13.—A most remarkable surgical operation has been performed at Mount Carmel hospital by which a man has been given a new set of lower eyelids, and an examination made today for the first time since the work was done promises that it will be entirely successful. The operation was on W. L. Kerr, who was burned in a natural gas explosion. The new lids were formed by grafting skingfrom Kerr's arm. The eyes were then sewed shut and bandaged. Yesterday when the bandages were removed it was found possible to remove the stitches from one eye and those from the other eye were removed today.

Mr. Kerr's eyes have not suffered and after his entire recovery from the operations they will be as good as new again.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better, and continued to improve until I was entirely well." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Favor Universal Suffrage.

Prague, Bohemia, Oct. 13.—The Czechs and Germans united in a demonstration in favor of universal suffrage. Peaceful crowds estimated to number from 50,000 to 60,000 persons assembled in the neighborhood of the Drexel building and sent a deputation to the land marshal, Prince Vobokilis, and the governor, Count Von Coudenhove, to present the officials with their views on the suffrage question. This movement is expected to spread until all Australia demands manhood suffrage.

Life a Burden

There are times when life seems a burden—when you are tired, worn-out, have dull pains in the head and a continual feeling of uneasiness. You have no appetite, and your digestion is poor; your sleep broken, and you get no rest.

Little annoyances seem great mountains of trouble, and you are blue, melancholy and given over to gloomy forebodings.

This means low vitality—exhausted brain nerves.

For this condition Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a specific; it is a food for the nerves. It builds up the nervous system, and restores lost energy.

Try it to-day and see if your sleep is not sound and refreshing, and the morrow brighter and more hopeful.

"I am glad to announce that I have recovered my health, as far as my advanced age will permit, as I am 83 years old. My case was very bad; my nerves were all shattered. I suffered much pain and coldness; was so weak and felt so sad and lonely and heart-broken. When I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Remedies I was completely prostrated. I have taken the Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, and they cured me." MRS. E. C. HAWLEY, Waterloo, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

SUNSTROKES.

Real estate in Gainesville is better than putting your money in a hole in the ground.

The man in business who does not advertise frequently has to shave himself to keep his hand in.

It is all right for ladies to go shopping without their hats, but they should never go without their purse.

Old saying: "None but the brave deserve the fair." Later: None but the brave can live with some of them.

Don't try to be too funny in writing your advertisement. People want facts and no jokes when they come to purchase goods.

The man who sells for cash has nothing but the money to remember his customer by, so he can look up a new acquaintance.

Pensacola had a population in 1900 of 17,747, while New Orleans had 287,000, yet the former city has been having more of a struggle to rid herself of yellow fever than the latter.

The new newspaper man has an ambition to ride on a free pass on the railroad. The experienced man in the business would much rather pay his fare and get pay for his advertising.

There is a desire on the part of numerous citizens to have a union depot in this city. It would certainly be a great convenience to the traveling public and would also do away with having the railroad occupy one of our principal streets. Let the matter be pushed along by those who are most interested.

Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, Mr. Foraker, Mr. Fairbanks et al. are particularly willing Mr. Shaw should capture "one" of the few States that are sure to go Democratic. Mr. Shaw, the Virginia coons are "yourn."

There is one thing certain: The man who "knocks" would never lift his hammer to do it if he had to put up a farthing for the pastime. Knocking is done by the fellows who don't like to pay.

There is a chance that Greene and Gaynor may not soon leave Georgia, unless they may be moved to Fort Leavenworth, Kans. But Atlanta may claim them as residents.

There is one thing certain: Until we have better roads the death list from auto mishaps will not be so large. The man who runs the machine takes the only chance now.

The Czar is getting magnanimous. He will permit the Finns to talk in their own language. Heretofore he would not permit them to talk at all.

One thing will be quite certain in regard to the trolley line to Newnan's Lake. None of the calamity howlers will build a competing line.

Iowa should call in her officeholders before she takes another census and save showing a decrease in population, as she did the last time.

Gainesville will soon be nearer Jacksonville, via the Coast Line, when the through trains get started.

A DANGEROUS FODDER.

Many of our farmers and stock owners will be interested in the following communication, which should cause an inspection of all fodder for stock. Poor feed is almost as bad as none at all:

"Agricultural Dept., State of Florida,
"Commissioner's Office,
"Tallahassee, October 19, 1905.
"Hon. H. H. McCreary,
"Editor of Daily Sun.

"Dear Sir: I desire to call the attention of manufacturers, dealers, and especially consumers of stock feed, to the following extracts from a bulletin issued by the Experiment Station of the State of Wisconsin:

"'Your attention is called to the fact that the Experiment Station has recently found at different points in the State feeding stuffs grossly adulterated with rice hulls.

"'Rice hulls contain 40 per cent of wood fiber and from 15 to 20 per cent silica or sand. Worse than this, the edges of the hulls carry sharp barbs which irritate the stomach and intestines of the animals, and when fed in quantity the hulls may kill the animals to which they are fed. Rice hulls are, therefore, not only worthless, but even dangerous to lives of horses and cattle.'

"The above is applicable in Florida as well as Wisconsin. I hope our dealers will have sufficient interest in the welfare of their customers to purchase no stock feeds adulterated with rice hulls or chaff. Consumers will do well to know what their stock feeds are compounded from. See to it that each package states on a tag what it is made from, or refuse to take it. I am preparing a circular on this subject for distribution. B. E. McLin,
"Commissioner of Agriculture."

FLORIDA THE PLACE.

There is room in Florida for a lot of people more than we have at present, and there is plenty to do for a lot of good workmen. At the present time the turpentine industry is one of the greatest. In a few years there will be more building done with the manufactured stone and brick, and there will be a demand for stone made from Portland cement, and brick made from sand by the process now in use in several parts of the State.

There is also a chance for the varied industries of the farmer. Cattle and sheep are bound to be in the lead in many portions of the State, and with the large cities that are springing up, much of the stuff grown on the farm will be used to supply the home market.

Some have the impression that everything grown on the farm must be shipped to the North and East, and the people at home left to do with what they can find of the leavings. This idea is a delusion, and it will be worth the attention of some of our fruit and vegetable growers to make an effort to cater to the home trade. There should be a demand in a city the size of Gainesville for a good supply of the best fruits and vegetables at fair prices, and many growers would be money ahead if they would build up a home trade, rather than ship their products and realize not enough to pay the cost of production.

To be a shipper and lose on the project does not pay as well as to sell at a reasonable profit at home.

The Miami Record modestly ventures to predict that the Buckman school bill will be repealed at the next session of the Legislature. That is after the style of Hicks' predictions, somewhat in the nature of a wild guess; a case of hit or miss.—St. Augustine Record.

If there is any paper in the land that has a brighter streak of yellow than those New York life insurance companies, it ought to be put in a frame.

Now we will have a new hotel in Gainesville.

A SAVINGS BANK.

The stocking has done duty as a savings bank probably ever since women began to wear hosiery, says The Savannah News, but it is doubtful if the cash-carrying capacity of a stocking was ever one of the main points in a lawsuit until that very point was made in a Pittsburg, Pa., court a day or two ago. The controversy was over a piece of property, for which one of the parties, a woman, said she paid in cash, $1,747. "In what form was that money?" she was asked. "One thousand of it was in bills, and $747 was in gold and silver coins." "From what place did you take the money?" "Out of my stocking, where I kept it." "Do you mean to tell this court that you carried $1,747 in bills and metal money in your stocking?" "Yes, sir." The lawyer submitted to the court that he was not qualified as an expert on the point of the capacity of stockings, but that he might later request that a few experts be called upon to say what they knew of such things.

SPARE OUR BLUSHES.

Coming as the above does from the best daily paper in South Florida, we accept the compliment with all the modesty at our command and will make an effort to have the edition up to the anticipations of our friends.

It is said that the Government will not afford any protection to Anastasia Island from the encroachments of the sea. It ought to put a police force there for the protection of people who rent it from the blacklegs that linger there.

The famous Picket orange grove, three miles east of Bartow, was sold recently to Eastern parties for $50,000, through Sample & Ramp, the real estate dealers at that place. This is one of the finest groves in the State, comprising sixty acres, and has 10,000 boxes of fruit on the trees now.

Hon. A. S. Mann is back in Florida and is still enthusiastic about good roads. He is using his voice and pen to this laudable purpose. ### His Health Was Wrecked, Peruna Gave New Life.

HON. JOHN TIGHE.

Assemblyman Tighe's letter should be read by every brain worker leading a strenuous life.

Hon. John Tighe, No. 98 Remsen St., Cohoes, N. Y., Member of Assembly from the Fourth district, Albany county, N. Y., writes as follows:

"Peruna has my hearty indorsement as a restorative tonic of superior merit. At times when I have been completely broken down from excess of work, so that my faculties seemed actually at a standstill, Peruna has acted as a healing restorer, starting the machinery of mind and body afresh with new life and energy.

"I recommend it to a man tired in mind and body as a tonic superior to anything I know of and well worthy serious consideration."—J. Tighe.

Excess of work so common in our country causes impaired nerves, leading to catarrh and catarrhal nervousness—a disease that is responsible for half of all nervous troubles.

Peruna cures this trouble because it cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

DEATHS LURKS IN THE SALIVA.

Professor Says Bite of Girl is More Deadly Than That of a Snake.

New York, Oct. 13.—Prof. W. D. Miller of the University of Berlin sent shivers down the backs of the students at Wesleyan when he announced in a lecture that the bite of a girl would often bring quicker and more horrible death than the bite of a serpent, says a dispatch to The Herald from Middletown, Conn.

Professor Miller, who has made a special study of the bacteria of the mouth, said that only a short time ago he experimented on a girl in Germany anad found that an arrow dipped in the saliva from her mouth would send its victim in death throes more terrible than one dipped in the venom of the most deadly snake.

Professor Miller said that there was a lesson in this for dentists.

Neither should mothers or fathers allow babies to chew their fingers, for fatal results are likely to come from it.

Governor of Philippines Retires.

Washington, Oct. 13.—By reason of what appears to be dissatisfaction with the situation in the Philippines, Luke E. Wright, governor-general of the Philippines and president of the Philippine commission, will retire from that position about the first of December. General Wright is expected to arrive in the United States during that month and is entitled to six months' leave of absence prior to the formal relinquishment of his labors as governor-general.

No News of Cunliffe Yet.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—The authorities are as much in the dark today as they have been since the disappearance of Edward G. Cunliffe, the Adams Express money clerk and the $181,000 which he is charged with having taken. Reports are being received from various parts of the country that the missing man has been seen, but none are given credence.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 North Main street, Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stop the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

READY FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Roswell's Committee Has Completed Program For the Day.

Atlanta, Oct. 13.—The committee on arrangements for the reception and entertainment of President Roosevelt during his stay in Roswell, Ga., Oct. 20, has completed the program for the reception of the presidential party and has outlined the program to be followed out by the party during its brief stay in Roswell.

The visit of President Roosevelt to Roswell is a matter of more than ordinary interest. The little Georgia town was the home place of the president's mother and there she married his father. It will be the president's first visit to the home of his mother, and he will view for the first time the scenes that surrounded her during her young womanhood.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Rebate Will Be Given.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 13.—Although the work of rebating Columbus, to restore this city to a first-class fire insurance rating, has not been completed, the Southern Tariff association announces that a rebate will be given on all policies written on or after Oct. 1; in other words the reduced rates will be considered as having gone into effect Oct. 1.

Shooting Affray at Clayton.

Clayton, Ga., Oct. 13.—A difficulty arose here between Gus Wall and M. H. Wall, known as Caub Wall, in which the former was shot, the bullet passing through the right thigh and lodging in the left knee. While the wounds are painful and serious, they are not necessarily fatal. M. H. Wall is in the custody of the sheriff.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE GRAVE OF ELIA.

Hutton's Effort to Find the Tomb of Charles Lamb.

Hutton's "Literary Landmarks of London" was largely a labor of love and was the result of years of hard work. Mr. Hutton gives this example of the difficulties that stood in his way: "Another Sunday afternoon I devoted to a pious pilgrimage to the grave of Charles Lamb at Edmonton. As usual, nobody at Edmonton knew anything. The churchyard is not a small one, and it is entirely filled. The sexton and the gravedigger and a few persons wandering about could give me no information. Most of them had never heard of Mr. Lamb, and I could not find the sacred spot. Naturally I applied to the rector, and as he left the vestry door after service leaning on the arm of a pretty young woman I approached him, raised my hat and asked politely if he could tell me where Charles and Mary Lamb were resting. Really he could not say! And I, forgetting the day, the place and his sacred office, cursed that rector for his criminal ignorance.

"'Great Heavens,' I said, 'you ought to be ashamed of yourself! In your care have been placed the ashes of one of the foremost men in the whole history of English letters. And you don't know where they are! They have made your churchyard and your parish distinguished all the world over. I have come 3,000 miles to visit Charles Lamb's grave, and you, the rector of the church, don't know where it is! You ought to be heartily ashamed of yourself.' And I turned upon my heel and left him standing there speechless and confounded."

Half an hour after the above incident occurred and while Hutton was groping around the graveyard in the twilight the rector came to him, hat in hand, apologized most humbly for his ignorance, which he had corrected in the meantime, and conducted him to the grave of the immortal Elia.

A VOCABULARY TEST.

Some Words Strange to You That Are in the Dictionary.

The number of obsolete words that are to be found in Webster's Dictionary is considerably larger than people have any idea of. The following letter, written by an alleged poet to an editor who had treated his poetry with derision, furnishes some idea of them:

"Sir—You have behaved like an impetiginous scrogie! Like those who, envious of any moral celsitude, carry their nugicity to the height of creating sympodically the fecund words which my pollymathic genius uses with uberty to abligate the tongues of the weet-beasl. Sir, you have crasely parodied my own pet words as though they were trangrams. I will not coaservate reproaches. I will oduce a veil over the atramental ingratitude which has chamfered even my indiscerptible heart. I am silent on the focillation which my conjuvancy must have given you when I offered to become your fautor and adminicle. I will not speak of the lippitude, the oblepsy, you have shown in exacerbating me, one whose genius you should have approached with mental discalceation. So I tell you, without supervacaneous words, nothing will render ignoscible your conduct to me. I warn you that I would vellicate your nose if I thought that any moral diarthrosis thereby could be performed—if I thought I should not impignorate my reputation. Go, tachygraphic scrogie, hand with your crass iquinate fautors; draw objectations from the thought, if you can, of having synchronically lost the existimation of the greatest poet since Milton."

And yet all these words are to be found in the dictionary.—Chicago Journal.

Insect That Sits on Eggs.

A remarkable case of an insect sitting on its eggs is recorded by F. P. Dodd in the "Transactions of the Entomological Society of London." This strange departure from the normal habits of the insect race is exhibited by a species of bug. The female sits in a brooding attitude over her eggs for a period of three weeks. When the young begin to break through she retires an inch or so from the eggs and remains there for some hours until the last egg is hatched. She then departs, leaving the young ones to take care of themselves. During the whole time of brooding and till all the young are hatched the mother eats nothing. It is thought that this brooding habit may be a means of protection against the attacks of ichneumon flies.—London Globe.

Moroccan Slave Markets.

The sale of slaves in Morocco is a very remarkable ceremony. When the buyers have taken their seats in the market place the auctioneers advance in line to the center of the market and offer up a prayer. They appeal for divine favor on behalf of buyers and sellers and anathematize Satan and all his works. The buyers interpolate "amen" at the proper moments. When the last word of prayer has been said the slaves are brought forward, paraded one at a time by the auctioneers and led around the circle of buyers, who raise the prices of women, women and children they desire to purchase.

Whistler and the Amateur.

When James MacNeill Whistler went to Venice to make those fourteen famous etchings of his he became so intoxicated with its beauty that he made seventy pastels first, leaving his etchings till the last few days. These pastels made a tremendous sensation. All the art world of Venice was carried away with enthusiasm, excepting a Russian painter, who declared them tricks, betting a basket of champagne he could paint six not to be distinguished from them. Mr. Whistler amiably gave some of his paper and six pastels, which were finally mixed up with those by the Russian and submitted to a jury who had seen none of them. Mr. Whistler's pastels were unmistakable, and the Russian lost the wine. A few days later the two met on the Rialto, and Mr. Whistler laughed a little about the wine and the bet. The Russian was furious. "You forget, sir," he said, "that I'm a Russian, and if you scratch one you find a Tartar underneath." "Oh, no, you have it wrong," said Mr. Whistler, "you have it wrong. I scratched an artist and found an amateur."

The Interpreter.

The famous Alpine climber who at the solicitation of the vicar had consented to give a short lecture in the Little Slushborough parish room was relating one of his most thrilling experiences, according to the Dundee Advertiser. "Suddenly," he said, "I felt my feet slip from under me, and next moment I was hanging over a yawning precipice. Had the rope which held me broken I should have found a grave midst the everlasting snows." He paused, and old Mrs. Wurzletop, who was as deaf as a gatepost, seized the opportunity to put a question to her husband, who could hear fairly well on one side of his head. "Wot weer 'ee a-sayin' o', John?" she queried. "So fur as Oi can make owt, M'riar," replied her good man, "'ee were darred near 'anged for pawning summit as didn't belong to 'im, an' if the rope 'adn't broke 'ee'd 'ave bin in 'is grave afore 'ee cud blow 'is nose. The perleece in them furrin parts must be orful strict."

Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Rossini's Criticism.

Very cruel, says an author, was Rossini's silent criticism of a score sent to him by a young musician. Rossini was fond of macaroni. The musician, knowing this, sent him along with his score a packet of macaroni of unusual excellence. In a humble little note he asked the composer to point out the merits of his work if he found any there. Rossini's reply ran like this: "Thanks for your score and the macaroni. The latter was excellent."

A Vegetarian Danger.

In some respects vegetarians suffer more than meat eaters from uric acid poisoning, seeing that beans, peas, lentils and peanuts contain twice as much of the poison as meat. The natives of India suffer greatly from uric acid diseases owing to the quantity of dahl (lentils) they eat. Other natives who avoid dahl are almost entirely free.—Dr. Haig in London Mail.

His Ambition.

Uncle Horace (who is something of a sage and philosopher)—My boy, it is time for you to begin to think seriously of the kind of future you intend to map out for yourself. To sum it up in a word, what epitaph are you ambitious to have engraved upon your tombstone? Nephew (just beginning his career)—He got his share.—Chicago Tribune.

FEAST OF THE BONKU

HOW JAPAN'S GREAT SUMMER HOLIDAY IS CELEBRATED.

It Is at Once an Occasion For Feasting the Spirits of the Departed and an Opportunity For a Marvelous Display of Lanterns.

There are no Sundays in Japan, but the people enjoy many legal and religious holidays. The most notable of all is that elaborate summer festival which lasts for four days in the middle of July and has so many sides to it that it is known by several names. Formerly it was styled Urabon; today it is usually called the Feast of Bon, or Bommatsuri, or the Bonku. It is at once a time for feasting the spirits of the departed and an occasion for a marvelous display of lanterns. Many Europeans call it the Feast of Lanterns. Speaking strictly, it may be denominated the Japanese Festival of All Souls.

In Dai Nippon religion and pleasure go hand in hand, and this extraordinary season of homage to friends who have passed away is an occasion of most singular and exceedingly picturesque national festivities on a universal scale. The popular doctrine is that during these four days of the year the spirits of ancestors take a holiday from hades and visit the familiar scenes of past terrestrial life, especially the temples and shrines where they used to worship, and that they expect to be cordially and devoutly welcomed and generously fed. These shadowy visitors also look for amusement, and it is abundantly supplied.

Tokyo is a gay sight indeed on the morning of July 13. The first ceremony is the Kawa Biruki, or opening of the river. Processions of pleasure boats start down the river Sumida. They are exquisitely decorated with flags, ribbons, colored paper and flowers in profusion, the lily being most in evidence, as this blossom is in Japan the emblem of purity. The people wish their ancestral invisible guests to believe that they are living immaculate lives, whatever may happen to be the truth of the matter. At night all the river craft will again sail in procession, and the gayety will be at the climax.

During the daytime the religious ritual is sedulously observed. For many days numerous hands have been busily weaving new mats of the finest rice straw, and now these are brought to the Buddhist shrines and spread upon the altars and inside the temples. In every home also a similar preparation for the festival worship is observed, the spotless mat being devoutly laid in the domestic "butsudan," as the little home shrine is termed where morning and evening prayers are offered before the ancestral tablets or inscriptions.

Of course the feeding of the ghostly guests is the most essential item in the programme of preparation. The dietetic commodities which these visitors from the unseen world are supposed to prefer are somewhat numerous; therefore the viands are offered in many tiny portions. Fresh lotus leaves are procured, if possible, and on these the food is placed. The morsels are all delicious, and the banquet is indeed a tempting one, supposing that the hadean epicures have really any appetite for these mundane delicacies. They are supposed to be specially fond of bits of the choice Japanese fruits called "saikwa" and "uri." They are offered plums and peaches. Little slices of muskmelon and watermelon are in evidence. The eggplant fruit is never missing.

Somewhat more substantial are the contributions in the shape of "gozen" (carefully boiled rice), "somen" (a kind of macaroni) and "dango" (a minute flour dumpling). Various delicate specimens are added, but no kind of animal food is ever offered, nor is a drop of wine included. Such commodities would shock the refined spiritual tastes of the guests. Clean water is constantly sprinkled on the shrine with a branch of the sacred mishohagi bush, and all day once an hour tea is freshly prepared for the ghosts. Chopsticks are laid by the offerings, the unseen visitors being treated just as living beings.

The proceedings indoors of course occupy much attention, and some member of the family must constantly be in the house, but the doings out of doors are full of interest and charm. All kinds of fascinating features characterize the public celebrations on land, on the river and by the sea. In all rural Japan the lively Bon Odori, or dance of souls, is kept up during the three days. It consists of a performance by the villagers in a great circle. The dancers go round, posturing in a great variety of attitudes, a few in the center being the musicians. In the cities the Bon Odori is now a professional exhibition of skill by pretty and popular geisha girls. As always in Japan, the dancers tell a story by their movements.

Wonderful everywhere in the land is the scene at nightfall. The "mukaebi," or welcome fires, are kindled on the first evening of Bommatsuri along the rivers and the shores wherever any town or village stands. The Japanese do nothing promiscuously, so they light in every place exactly 108 of these fires. They are intended to guide the spirits if any need illumination to find their way to the homes and shrines they are seeking. And, with a like aim, every householder at sunset fixes before his portal several torches. Besides these flaring and fragrant signals, beautiful lanterns are suspended over each entrance. For the poor ghosts who come to earth for the Bommatsuri, but have no friends, and so would be hungry and disconsolate, very special provision is made by the priests in the temples. This is a special function of the third night.

The "sayonara," or farewell ceremonial, is the final scene, and a pathetic performance it is. On the last night, the evening of the 16th, the spirits must all return whence they came to earth for their brief visitation, and nothing has been neglected in preparation for their departure. Sweet poetical messages of love and good will have been written with assiduous care and real reverence. These love letters have been placed in beautiful little boats made of barley straw, together with delicate morsels of various kinds of food for the journey; also miniature lanterns are deposited in the tiny craft, for the departing friends will need light on the mystic way. The boats are about twelve inches in length. Another tiny lantern is attached to the prow. This is lighted, and incense is set aflame in the stern. Then the little craft is launched on creek, canal, river or sea. And far into the night, as these phantom fleets glide along, the waters gleam with the sparkling of the strange little craft, the "shoryobune," or boats of the blessed ghosts.—St. James' Gazette.

DIAMOND CUTTING.

Shaping the Stones and the Work of the Polisher.

"The business of diamond cutting," said a cutter of precious stones to a reporter, "has changed. The old idea of imbedding the stone in melted lead and then allowing the lead to harden, leaving only one facet of the diamond exposed for polishing, is done away with. The whole process is this:

"We first take the diamond in its rough state. We find in all Brazilian diamonds six sharp points, the stone being in the form of a cube. We first determine the best way to cut the diamond by examining it for flaws and deciding which way we will be able to reduce the stone to the largest possible perfect size and at the same time cut out all the imperfections or as many of them as possible.

"The only thing which will cut a diamond is another diamond, so one diamond imbedded in hard cement is used to cut the rough stone into a fairly symmetrical shape for polishing. The table or top part of the diamond is cut, the sides of the diamond down to about two-sevenths of the depth are cut, and then for the remainder of the stone it is tapered off to the small point called the culet. The culet is supposed to be directly in the center of the table, and by looking into a diamond it looks as though a little hole were cut down the middle.

"When the diamond has been cut into this rough shape it is about as black as charcoal. This is caused by the abrasion from the diamond which is used to cut it. Then it is up to the polisher. His work is nearly always the same. Except in the rarest of cases he takes the stone and polishes on it fifty-six facets in addition to the table and culet, making fifty-eight facets all told on every stone.

"He uses a holder which grasps and locks the diamond securely at any convenient angle, and then he presents the exposed surface to a fast revolving wheel on which are diamond dust and oil. That is his entire work—to put on in regular sequence the fifty-six facets and then to polish to a nicety these fifty-six sides and the table and culet. When he completes his job the diamond is ready for the market, impregnable to weather, to acid, to damage, except as it may be cut by another diamond.

"The invention of the diamond holders with a lock clasp has done away with the melted lead as a holder except in the case of the very smallest stones."—New York Herald.

No Prevaricator.

"Jack Arlupp tried to borrow a dollar from me just now, but he didn't get it. I told him I hadn't a sou."

"Wasn't that stretching the truth considerably?"

"Not at all. I never saw one, in fact. It's a French coin, isn't it?"—Pittsburg Post.

A Subtle Distinction.

DEATH OF MRS. E. L. CUSHMAN.

The Peaceful Ending of a Devoted Christian's Life.

Mrs. Blanche Jarvis Cushman, wife of Mr. E. L. Cushman and daughter of Mr. J. H. Jarvis, died at her home in this city Thursday evening at half-past nine o'clock.

This sad event was not unexpected, as Mrs. Cushman had been an invalid for some years, having consumption, and has been declining rapidly the past few weeks.

The deceased was born in this city not quite twenty-three years ago. She was the daughter of Mr. J. H. Jarvis and Mrs. Annie E. Jarvis. She was married August 28, 1901, to Mr. E. L. Cushman, who, with two sons and an infant daughter, survives her.

Some years ago Mrs. Cushman professed her faith in Jesus Christ and became a member of the First Presbyterian Church, with which her whole life had been associated. The genuineness and sincerity of her piety were very manifest in consistency of daily life in her patience under the cares and trials allotted to her in the illness of her children, and especially in her sweet resignation of spirit to the divine will in her own increasing feebleness, the necessary separation from her children, the early blighting of her earthly plans and hopes, and in the prospect and experience of departure from this world. Her end was peaceful and painless—just a quiet falling asleep.

To her father, husband and family the deepest sympathy of many friends goes out in this season of their bereavement.

The funeral services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church this afternoon at three o'clock, to which all relatives and friends of the family are invited.

TAILOR-MADE SKIRTS.

Man-Tailored From Men's Woolens Are the Popular Kind Today.

They are made strictly to measure, pressed into perfect shape by men tailors, and retain their shape after constant wear.

They cost no more than ready-made skirts, but wear twice as long and look genteel even after constant service.

Every pattern being drafted to the measure of the lady who orders, a perfect fit is guaranteed in every instance. You take no chance whatever.

Call on C. F. Dorman, at Harper & Chase's music store, who is the local agent for the Warrington Woolen and Worsted Mills, Chicago, and he will show you the woolens and the proper styles for fall wear. Prices very reasonable. d2
